

Telemetry Report

Posted by stark - 26 Jan 2012 02:08

Telemetry reports a continual discovery of locations and objects that can be interacted with or without other players. Some are part of recipes that when combined add stat bonuses and on rare occasions unlocks an achievement. What is discovered is random and the lifetime varies from object to object. These locations are primarily found on mars but may also include, space, earth, cyberspace, insilico city and AGIS station. As usual make sure you are metered up when in character and do not use any teleporter to locate items. Some items explode others seep damage over time.

Most items will be removed after 24-48 hours, some items will remain persistent throughout the week. Ruins and abandoned buildings may yield random items and warrant an occasional visit while they are around. If you receive a RP item give it to the appropriate division or officer. Tents, buildings and ruins may also be random spawn points for NPCs or enemies. Locked areas need to be hacked when available or breached when not. If you would like to receive credit or roll a skill check make sure you talk to the officer on duty.
